

Office Update

July 2020

Dear Valued Clients,

Our team continues to operate remotely. Hard to believe we have been doing this for four months! Similar to many other businesses, we have learned to adapt to this new world. A big thank you to our valued clients for being able to adapt as well. We are anxious to get back to seeing everyone.

As we continue to wait for a safer environment, we have some exciting news to share. We are using this period of time away from the office to improve and expand our workspace. The front entry suite in our current building became available, so we are going to take that over while keeping part of our current space (saves everyone a few steps from parking lot 😊). This new division of suites is going to take about 8 weeks to complete with construction starting next week.

We will have limited access to our suite during construction. This is similar to what we have done throughout the pandemic. Our address will continue to be the same during construction and after the new workspace is completed. Thus, there are no mailing address changes needed for our company.

In this 25th anniversary year of being in business, we are excited about what this new space will mean for the next 25 years. We could not have predicted the change would have occurred during a pandemic, but as we discuss with clients every day, plans should be flexible! We are looking forward to the day when we can meet safely in this new space.

Matt Miler, CPA, CFP®